Top links

Experimental 30 meter mobile beacon

The first 30 meter mobile beacon will be on the air as it travels to the Dayton Hamvention. Listen for the beacon on 10.129MHz.
QRZ

Amateur radio operators in Canada gain new 472-479kHz spectrum

Amateurs in Canada are now authorized to use the 472-479kHz band with the release of the new Canadian Table of Frequency Allocations by Industry Canada.
Southgate

KickSat Sprite satellites may not deploy

Due to the main microcontroller being reset on the KickSat CubeSat, the tiny KickSat Sprites may not deploy before the KickSat loses orbit and falls back to earth.
ARRL

Photographs from various high profile Dxpeditions available

Nodir Tursoon-Zadeh (EY8MM) has published several ebooks featuring rich photography from all corners of the earth taken while participating in high profile Dxpeditions.
G4VXE

FUNCube-1 AO-73 operating schedule

AO-73 transmits telemetry data for schools during the week while the satellite's SSB/CW transponder is active on weekends.
AMSAT-UK

CQ-DATV Magazine for amateur television enthusiasts

CQ-DATV is a free digital publication containing a collection of articles on amateur television and related disciplines. A new issue is published roughly once a month.
CQ-DATV

Practical Amateur Radio Podcast

The Practical Amateur Radio Podcast (PARP) is a monthly podcast covering all aspects of amateur radio.

Amateur radio operators asked to help find lost geese

Geese equipped with radio beacons in France have been lost. The Puy du Fou is asking hams to listen for the birds on a series of VHF frequencies.

Southgate

How to

Listen to the amateur radio bands using only your web browser

Using software defined radios, many hams have their rigs connected to the web and available for anyone to tune in and listen.

WebSDR

Sound library: Identify RFI emitting from computer equipment

The ARRL has a series of audio clips that feature recordings of RF interference from various pieces of computer equipment. Do you hear similar sounds in your shack?

ARRL

Video

Unboxing and first look of the new Wouxun UV8D HT

This new dual-band Wouxun HT features a color display and cross band repeat function along with many other features.

BuyTwoWayRadios

Portable 2m/70cm antenna for working satellites

Dave Tadlock (KG0ZZ) describes how he built his portable dual band 2 meter / 70 cm antenna for working the amateur satellites.

Zed Zed's Workbench

And finally...

5 great reasons to participate in a state QSO party

AmateurRadio.com

Hand curated by KK4HSX. Thank you for reading! 73!

Subscribe to our email list